Brilliant Double Wedding of the Misses Rothschild.

Rabbi Stern Performed the Ceremony-Six Bridesmaids Were in Attendance.

The first double marriage of the season was solemnized yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, in the pariors of Mr. Frederick Freund. The contracting pairs were Miss Carrie Rothschild to Mr. Gustavus Wallenstein, of this city, and Miss Hattie Rothschild to Mr. Eugene Schwab, of New York, both brides being the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rothschild, of No. 217 Four-andshalf street northwest

Nearly a hundred guests, representing the respective families and near friends, were present as the bridal party descended the starts to the music of the wedding march from Lohengrin, played by a string orchesira in one of the interior parlors. The brides and grooms entered together, at-tended by their usbers only, and placed themselves in position directly facing the bay windew where Rabbi Stern awaited them Before him stood a small table covered with snowy linen, bearing lighted candles in two silver sticks a vase of pink toses and a small glass of wine.

The six bridesmaids witnessed the ceremony grouped among the guests. The ushers were Mr. Silas Rosenthal, Mr. Joseph Dreyfoos, Mr. Sidney West, Mr. George Strauss, Mr. Harry Rothschild, Mr. Sam Rothschild, Mr. Morton Gutman, of Baltinore: Mr. Jack Fleishman, of Philadelphia; more: Mr. Jack Fletshman, of Plaindelplata; Mr. Ben Rosenfeld, of Harrisonburg, Va., end Mr. Herrinan Wallenstein, of Richmond, Va. Each bride was gowned in rich white satin, with high bodice and mousquetaire sleeves. Their tulle veils, worn over their faces, were crowned with orange blossom and fell in folds to the edge of their trains, and each carried, instead of flowers, a Bible bound in white moire

Capt. Cox will probably not leave Washington until the first of the year, taking with her then her secretary, Miss Hill. THE FAREWELL SERVICES.

The services at Dr. Johnston's church last right were held in the Sunday-school rooms Though the audience that gathered would have made a weak showing in the assembly nom above it filled comfortably the lesse hall. The pastor had resigned his position for the evening to the staff officer, and a companion salvation lassic, and it was an interesting session that followed.

Every one in the room sang, Capt. Cor preached for a while, Dr. Johnston spoke oriefly, expressing the wide-felt regret in the community over the proposed de-parture of the interesting little woman, the other Salvation lasses asked for a collection, there was a senson of prayer, when half a score of people knell around the small altar, and the meeting closed in an informal reception to the departing

Capt. Cox held her Bible in her hand all the while she spoke. She said am-bition and indifference are enemies of the bition and indifference are enemies of the soul. Heaven is like worldly things in one way—"Out of sight out of mind."
"The devil is the greatest enemy of all souls," she continued. "I do not like to hear people make fun of him. He is a fallen archangel. We cannot afford to make fun of him. This devil is a strong and wise one and therefore subile and dangerous. We cannot fight him without the help of God."

ONE GIRL'S ERROR.

ONE GIRL'S ERROR

Have Found Germs Which Can Kill the Dread Disease—The Theory on Which They Worked.

of Berlin, giving the effect of a number of experiments they have made with a "Typhusantitoxine". "If their hopes are confirmed," said the infectious diseases, will have received infections diseases, will have received another most valuable accession in this new discovery. The two experimenters believe that exemption from typhus germs, like immunity from chiclera germs and other contagious diseases of like character, may be traced back to the existence in the blood of antityphoid substances, and from this standpoint the very successful results of the investigations have been troumly as man is susceptable to act tacks from these bacilli during the best years of his development—twenty to twenty-five years.

"The inoculations of 'Typhusantitoxine' can be easily and quickly executed, and will n times of enidemic, when the need for a rompt and efficacious life-saving remedy is most urgent. The entire fruits of the ex-periments will soon be published for the benefit of the entire medical world."
